

Artist Residence,
52 Cambridge Street,
Pimlico, London SW1

Shirt by Kent & Curwen,
£195. kentandcurwen.com

Trainmaster Worldtime
Chronograph by Ball,
£3,440. ballwatch.com

Jumper by Oliver Spencer,
£130. oliver Spencer.co.uk

Jeans by Diesel,
£200. diesel.com

Holdall by Smythson, £1,395.
smythson.com

Boots by RM Williams,
£385. rmwilliams.com

Eau de toilette, by
Joop! £39 for 60ml. joop.com

How to Pack for a weekend away

Eclectic but homely, luxurious but personal, the Artist Residence in central London is one of the most unique boutique hotels in the city. Located in Pimlico, the small ten-bedroom boutique hotel opened in September 2014 and is the third property in the Artist Residence Group – they already run hotels in Brighton and Penzance – by young British hoteliers Justin and Charlotte Salisbury. With only two suites and eight rooms, all individually designed in rustic-luxe style, it is an intimate creative place to stay for the modern day traveller. As its name suggests, art is of high importance to Artist Residence and that is exactly which makes this place stand out from many other boutique hotels, with work gathered from a variety of independent galleries and art fairs.

Such a design-led creative space asks for a holdall packed with carefully selected items. This graphic patterned sweatshirt from Oliver Spencer makes an excellent starting point. Team it with a white a Kent & Curwen shirt and navy Diesel jeans and add strong brown suede leather boots from RM Williams for a look perfectly suitable for a day in the city as well as an evening in the hotel's Cambridge Street Kitchen restaurant. Pack it all in Smythson's navy soft deerskin Burlington holdall, and you're good to go.

Artist Residence, 52 Cambridge Street, Pimlico, London, SW1. 02079 318946. artistresidencelondon.co.uk